Rooted in Sustainability and Transparency

Serendib Ingredients stands firm in its commitment to the environment, community development, responsible practices, ethical sourcing and production.

Our global botanical production and sourcing practices ensure transparency, enabling us to deliver the highest quality products.

Serendib Traceability System

Serendib's Traceability System is an in-house app, a comprehensive database integrating suppliers, farms, and processors. With a single click, it offers complete product traceability, showcasing our commitment to transparency and quality control.

Regenerative Farming

Serendib Ingredients is dedicated to regenerative farming practices, nurturing strong bonds with farming communities while upholding sustainability and ethical cultivation. Bees are essential contributors to our farm's biodiversity and our team of expert agronomists, assisted by junior agronomists, uphold the highest agricultural standards.
